

Compressed Graph (vertical shrink) – a shrink in which a plane figure is distorted vertically. It's a transformation in which all distances on the coordinate plane are shortened by multiplying all y coordinates of a graph by a common factor less than 1.