

Graph – a pictorial representation of some mathematical relationship. It can be a point on a number line, which is a graph of a real number.