

Parent Function – the basic function for a family of functions.

For instance, $y = x^2$ is the parent function of the family of quadratic functions.