

Divisible by

a number is divisible by a second number if that second number divides evenly into the original number.

Example: 10 is divisible by 5 ( $10 \div 5 = 2$ , with no remainder).

How ever, 10 is not divisible by 3.